

NAME

Lesson 7.3
 (pp. 145–146)

Subject and Object Pronouns
EXERCISE 1 Choosing Correct Pronouns

Circle the correct pronoun in parentheses.

Hint

To help you choose the correct pronoun in a compound subject or object, try each pronoun separately.

1. My parents and (me, I) visited Atlanta last year.
2. My aunt arranged a tour for (us, we) tourists.
3. (She, Her) and her friend took us to Playscapes, a fancy playground.
4. My dad took photos of (we, us) leaning on some sculptures.
5. Isamu Noguchi, a famous sculptor, designed (they, them) and the whole area.

EXERCISE 2 Completing Sentences

Use a subject or object pronoun to complete each sentence correctly.

EXAMPLE My mother and I became curious about Noguchi's life.

1. Noguchi's Japanese father and American mother influenced _____ a lot.
2. Noguchi's interest in nature led _____ to design pieces for outdoor areas.
3. One of _____ is a bridge in Peace Park in Japan.
4. The two sculptors I've studied are _____ and Alexander Calder.
5. My friend Brad and I did a project about the two of _____ last year.

EXERCISE 3 Correcting Sentences

 Correct errors in the use of subject and object pronouns in the sentences below. If a sentence has no errors, write Correct.

EXAMPLE Noguchi was born in California, but ~~him~~ and his family moved a lot. he

1. When he was two, Noguchi's mother moved with him to Japan.
2. She tried to help he develop his artistic abilities, but some of his early art teachers discouraged him from becoming an artist.
3. Noguchi often used stone and wood. In addition to they, he experimented with water, light, clay, metal, and paper in many of his designs.
4. Brad and me gave a report on several of Noguchi's works.
5. Later, us and our classmates made our own sculptures from clay.